1/ My first #TwitterFiles report: how @ScottGottliebMD - a top Pfizer board member - used the same Twitter lobbyist as the White House to suppress debate on Covid vaccines, INCLUDING FROM A FELLOW HEAD OF @US_FDA!

Thanks @elonmusk for opening these files.

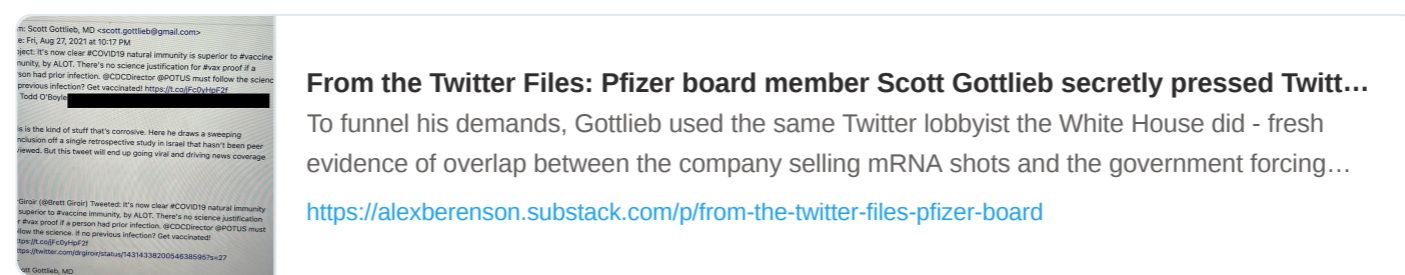

2/ In August 2021, Gottlieb told Todd O'Boyle - a senior manager in Twitter's public policy department - that a tweet from @DrGiroir claiming CORRECTLY that natural immunity was superior to vaccine immunity was "corrosive" and might "go viral."

3/ Twitter put a misleading tag on the tweet, preventing it from being shared. Gottlieb then went after a tweet about Covid's low risk to kids from @justin_hart. Pfizer would soon win the okay for its mRNA shots for children, so keeping parents scared was crucial...

4/ In October 2022, claimed on Twitter and CNBC that he was not trying to suppress debate on mRNA jabs. These files prove that Gottlieb - board member at a company that has made $70 billion on the shots - did just that.

Alex Berenson @AlexBerenson Jan 4. 1/ @JReinerMD, remember when you tried to make people take novel biotechnologies or lose their jobs? "Early experience with Covid-19 vaccine mandates shows that when faced with a choice between vaccine compliance and losing a job, nearly all employees choose to get vaccinated." 2/ "Choose" lol... though there's nothing

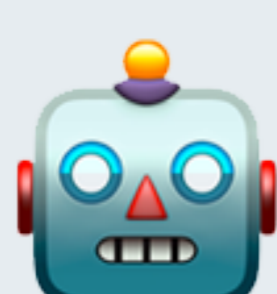

Alex Berenson @AlexBerenson Dec 28, 2022. The last two days have made clearer than ever before what happens next. They'll keep telling me how awful I am for chasing the questions they're too scared to ask. I'll keep trying to get at the truths that are desperately important to their health... This isn't for me. I'm not (mRNA Covid) vaccinated. My wife isn't. Our

Alex Berenson @AlexBerenson Dec 27, 2022. Tesla's demise? Tesla is STILL the biggest car company by market cap - twice Toyota, the number two, four times as big as Ford and GM combined. It is profitable and growing. The stock was in a dumb bubble which has now popped. This is a market story, not a company story. This reminds me a lot of Cisco in 2000.

Alex Berenson @AlexBerenson Dec 21, 2022. 1/ The new studies showing vaccinated people are at MUCH higher risk of Omicron have put vaccine fanatics on edge. I know because they're screaming I misrepresented them. Sorry, nope. Links to both in next tweet, judge for yourself. 2/ The Cleveland Clinic preprint: "The risk of COVID-19 also varied by the

Alex Berenson @AlexBerenson Dec 17, 2022. The "13 billion vaccine" figure you're seeing more and more shows the desperation of vaccine fanatics. Why? The vast majority of those shots are NOT the mRNA jabs Americans got - they are simple "inactivated virus" vaccines whose principles have been understood for generations... But the United States and other rich

Alex Berenson @AlexBerenson Dec 14, 2022. 1/ I realize talking about this stinks. I realize many (perhaps most) people who got the mRNAs are aware that they were deceived - even if they will never admit it. They have no plans to get more or let their kids have the shots and just want to forget that 2021 ever happened... 2/ But we can't, in part because the hard
